

FlexFrost Edible Fabric Techniques

Wild Horse Cake

Done in Grayscale

Patricia Allen, Williston, FL

Start with bottom tier. Remove printed western pattern sheet from backing page lay face down.

Using a Q-tips® apply a small amount of edible glue on both long edges, gently pinch both edges together to make pleats. Place the pleated sheet on top edge and drape around the side and tuck under the bottom. Continue around the tier with additional sheets until complete.

Wild horse tier: Place cake on top of first tier, use a paper towel to apply edible glue to fondant in the area where you want to place the horses, you can do a section at a time. Remove horses from backing page and apply them to the prepared fondant.

Supplies

- FlexFrost edible fabric sheets
- Tylose and water thick edible glue (add a little tylose to ¼ cup water, stir then allow time for the powder to adsorb the water and stir again)
- Paper towels
- Q-tips®
- Tray or pan ¼ full of water
- Scissors
- Bowl scraper with flat side
- Western Bandana pattern printed on FlexFrost THIN fabric sheets
- Wild Horses printed on FlexFrost regular fabric sheets and cut with the Silhouette
- Fabulace "Russian" lace matt or premade Russian lace
- Russian lace background printed on FlexFrost Fabric sheets and cut on Silhouette

Russian Lace: Dip the FlexFrost sheet or scrap pieces into the tray of water about 30 seconds place them on the mat and wait about 2 minutes until they start to drop into the mold. Take the flat edge of the scraper to mix and press the sheet into the mold, smooth the top edge, and allow to dry (about 2 hours under a fan) you can use a dehydrator or possibly a warm oven for quicker drying. FlexFrost edible fabric lace is FDA and Kosher approved.

Top Tier: I start by applying the lace background to the bottom of the tier using small amounts of edible glue on the fondant. Then using the Q-tips® apply a very small amount of glue to the top of the lace and attach to the background. Add more glue to the back of the lace as needed.

Once the lace is on you can apply the horses the same as you did on the second tier.

To make the neck scarf, fold your western pattern in half to make a triangle.

Fold the top down and tie the end just like a scarf. I used a glass horse on top but you could also make an edible purse, boot or flowers to go with the Bandana scarf.
